Sarah Harp

Sarah Harp was born and raised in Tulsa, Oklahoma. She graduated from the University of Oklahoma with a Bachelor of Arts in political science and anthropology with a minor in history. She then returned home to Tulsa where she obtained her JD from the University of Tulsa. As soon as she graduated from law school, Sarah moved to Austin, Texas in 2014 to pursue her taco and tequila dreams.

Sarah has served as a director, secretary, and treasurer of the Austin Young Lawyers Association (AYLA) and is currently the president. She is a recipient of the AYLA Outstanding Committee Chair Award and the President's Award of Merit. Sarah is also the project facilitator for the Austin Bar Association/AYLA leadership academy. Additionally, Sarah is a member of the District Nine Nominating Committee for the Texas Bar Foundation, is in the Guardian Angel Society for the Center for Child Protection, is a Volunteer Legal Services Judge Suzanne Covington Pro Bono Service Award Honoree, is a former associate in the Barbara Jordan Inn of Court, and recently took a course on the Psychology of Criminal Behavior at the University of Oxford. She currently practices criminal appellate law at the Office of the Attorney General. In her free time, Sarah enjoys reading non-fiction, watching every Bravo reality show, traveling, and hanging out with her dog, Moxie Mae.
