

STATE BAR of TEXAS

District Director Elections – 2020 Uncontested Race

These biographies are provided to inform voters about the candidates for State Bar director, District 6, Place 4.

Chad Baruch for District 6, Place 4

Chad Baruch is a board-certified appellate attorney in Dallas. In 2015, he wrote “the Hip Hop Brief” while representing what the New York Times called “a glittering array of hip hop stars” in the United States Supreme Court. The brief garnered national media coverage, with one newspaper calling it “the greatest amicus brief in Supreme Court history.” Chad has a lengthy history of service to Texas lawyers, culminating in his 2017 nomination to run for President of the State Bar of Texas. Chad has served as Chair of both the Consumer & Commercial Law and Individual Rights & Responsibilities Sections, the Council of Chairs, and the Texas Bar College. He is the recipient of the Gene Cavin Award (lifetime contributions to Texas CLE), the Dan Price Award (excellence in legal writing), the Patrick Wiseman Award (lifetime contributions to constitutional rights in Texas), and the Jim Bowmer Professionalism Award. In addition to practicing law, Chad is a former college and high school head basketball coach. He also worked 12 years as a high school administrator and AP government teacher.
