

2.2 Self-Study Credit.

Self-Study Credit is CLE credit that is obtained from any type of CLE activity that is performed by an individual attorney acting alone or while attending non-accredited professional educational activities. A maximum of three (3) Self-Study credit hours can be applied toward each MCLE compliance year. Self-Study Credits may be claimed for any of the following types of CLE activities:

- a. reading materials specifically prepared for an accredited activity;
- b. reading substantive legal articles in recognized legal publications;
- c. reading digests, advance sheets, cases, treatises, statutes, and regulations;
- d. viewing non-accredited videotapes or digital media produced for legal education purposes;
- e. listening to non-accredited audiotapes or digital media produced for legal education purposes;
- f. attending professional educational activities that train participants in the use of non-legal software or teach non-legal skills such as stress management, time management, personal relational management, career management, rainmaking, marketing, accounting, general office management, and communication skills.
- g. attending professional educational activities that present business, technical or scientific knowledge including programs dealing with business management concerns, medical or engineering knowledge and concepts, or other educational activities dealing with topics relevant to specific areas of law practice;
- h. serving as a judge or evaluator in any type of mock trial, moot court or client counseling competition, class or program; and
- i. speaking or writing, including presentation, preparation and composition time for any of the self-study activities enumerated above (a-h).
